

Bindery Operator (Stitching) Vacancy

We are currently seeking a conscientious, hard working and flexible operative to support production in our Print Finishing department. Bindery Operators are responsible for the efficient running of a Muller Stitching line including overseeing the work of up to 4 employees.

The role entails:

- The setting and running of the stitching line equipment.
- Supervising machine staff
- Following production schedules
- Optimising productivity by following job instructions.

We invite applications from experienced print finishing operatives who have established bindery process skills and are keen to support our talented and busy bindery area working a rotating shift arrangement (Monday – Sunday) to include bank holidays.

Successful applicants can look forward to a vibrant working environment within a progressive company, access to NVQ's and internal training, free parking, paid breaks and on site facilities.
